B-code Alliance

There is always an owner's manual for anything that you try to operate. But you never got one when you were born because there wasn't one. It didn't exist. You were left to figure out life for yourself with no tools, no blueprint, and lots of conflicting advice.

As a result, we spend so much of our precious energy fighting our negative feelings that could be used to create the life that we want.

We all do the best that we can, but I never met a person who was totally happy or satisfied.

What good is it to be rich and sick?

What if you hate your boss or your co-workers?

Or maybe you're the boss they hate.

How does it feel when your children won't talk to you?

Or how do you feel trying to raise your children with all the ways their young lives can be destroyed today?

What about you...

Do you often feel that you're not good enough?

Do you blame yourself for everything that goes wrong?

Do you feel like you have been cheated out of the life that you really wanted?

Without an owner's manual, we all experience feelings like these , and it ruins the life that we could be living.

It causes us:

To turn fear into paralysis instead of opportunity.

To turn frustration into hate instead of action.

It causes us to drive away the people who love us.

This has been the story of our lives since the beginning.

We now have an alternative. There is an owners' manual for you. I discovered it.

I never set out to find an owners' manual and you might even say that through 50 years of frustration training salespeople, I found it by accident.

When I finally found the reason why salespeople couldn't sell, I realized that this isn't just for salespeople.

It's the answer for everyone to take control of their lives.

IT'S THE ANSWER...

For the young person trying to get established.

The parents trying to raise a family,

The working mother trying to hold it all together.

The business owner whose stress is killing them.

The underemployed person struggling to survive.

The sick person with a life-threatening disease.

And anybody else who is struggling with anything.

It's the answer to bring peace, prosperity, health and harmony to our personal lives.

And it's the answer to bring sanity to our dangerous world.

And by the way, the last four salespersons that I trained,

This is what they earned last month.

$21,000
$16,000
$11,000
$8000 part time

There is nothing special about these four people. They are just like you. Their incomes were stuck like a bug on fly paper ranging from 30 to 45K a year until they learned and applied this new owner's manual.

This owner's manual will change your life. So how do you get it? Real simple.

Join the B-code Alliance, a community of forward-thinking people, that want to understand and use the tools that we have developed over 50 years to harness the power of one's mind to rewrite the story of their life and business.
